The Herdic Coaches. WHAT THE INVENTOR HAS TO SAY ABOUT THE

POINTS OF OPPOSITION. In a talk with a STAR reporter yesterday Peter Herdic discussed the opposition which his coaches are meeting with all over the country. It arises, he says, not from any fault of construction, but from the very excellence of the vehicles. Street car companies, coach builders, all in fact who are concerned in the business of personal transportation, are realizing that the new invention must ruin them if they do not succeed in killing it at the start. They have spared no pains to do this. Libelous attacks on the patent, influences of all kinds brought to bear on parties who took the establishment of the new lines in hand, even interference with the construction of the coaches, so that through fault of material or finish they might break down, are, Mr. Herdic claims, the means that his opponents have taken to pro-tect themselves at his expense.

"These," said the patentee, "are but some of the ways in which I have been attacked. You see, by the combination of my inventions this coach is bound to supersede all the old forms. t enables one horse to do the work of two and for the business of general transportation it has the advantage over street railways that no expensive road has to be constructed and kept in repair. Our lines can be started for about a quarter of what it takes to start a street railroad. In Washington the car companies reduced their fares to three cents and put on twenty new cars, but so far from hurting us our receipts went up an average of fifty-five cents a day for each coach within the next week. They have since had to take off some of their cars, and I believe no one will ride with them at all when we have coaches enough to meet the emergency. "Now the coach-builders are against me, too, for they see there is going to be a revolution in their trade. The principles on which I build are equally applicable to all sorts of vehicles. and I got on May 31 four new patents, both here and in Europe, for running gear and other matters. Of course, as is always the case, my invention was not perfect at first, and I have been making constant improvements. A number of the first coaches I built were made to appear defective through the bad material put into the axles by those whom I employed to make them. So all the faults, real or apparent, were so much for my enemies to trade on. They have been used all over the country to make it appear that my invention was a fall-

As to efforts made by rallway companies to buy him out, Mr. Herdic said: "They can't do When the coaches come they come to stay. I have been offered large sums, but I am determined the public shall have the benefit of this means of cheap transportation. I now put in all my licenses a provision that those who take the privileges for various towns must put on and keep running all the conveyances that will pay twenty-five per cent on the actual money invested. You see, if the railway companies buy out their opponents they must keep the Coaches running or else all the rights re-vert to me. That is all I want. I am determined that they shall have full opportunity to fight their way on their own merits.

The demand is increasing so middly everywhere that if I could turn out fifty a day I could not meet it. I am going to get all the first-rate coach builders I can to build them. A style that is proving very attractive is the small cab on two wheels and seating four persons. It is to be introduced to carry persons in any direction at twenty-five cents for a trip not exceeding thirty minutes." In conclusion Mr. Herdic reiterated his conviction that in any town the coaches would realize a profit of over flity per cent if any way well managed, and that, despite all the opposi-tion made to them, they would yet prove their SPECIAL MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES. A special meeting of the board of public school trustees was held last evening to consider a proposition to increase the number of pupils of the Normal school to 25, &c. This question was at once taken up-the resolution offered by Mr. Lovejoy, April 12th last, and re-ported favorably and postponed at that time, being read.

Mr. Lovejoy briefly explained the necessity for the increase of the scats in that school.

Mr. Curtis said that he had not approved the report on account of the additional expense. Mr. Lovejoy said that the practice school attached to the normal school was a double school, and the adoption of the resolution would make it necessary to have but one additional teacher. Superintendent Wilson explained that these two schools numbered 64 each.

The resolution was adopted. The committee on teachers reported on the recent examination of teachers recommending the granting of certificates as follows:-1st class certificates-Ella C. Sanders, Emma M. Ellet, Agnes I. Rounds, Annie F. Perrie, Carrie P. Church, Annie E. Loomis; 2d class—Jane H. Pease, Margaret C. O. Lazenby, John Cannon, Anne M. Godirg; 3d class—W. H. Smith, Helen M. Manning; 4th class—Henry S. Petty and hard T. Moss. Mr. Lioyd moved to amend the rule adopted some months since, relative to the granting of diplomas and certificates so as to grant certificates in the eighth grade, including those who go to the high school; adopted.

Mr. Fairley presented the report of the examiners on the Kendali and King scholarship— C. B. Young, J. W. Hunt and O. T. Mason—and the president of the board opened the numbered envelopes and read the names, which, being placed in the report enabled the secretary to announce the averages. The twelve contestauts were of course from the boys' high school (Mr. Paul, principal):—Roger T. Mitcheil, of the 2d division, made 71; Clarence C. Doolittle, 3d, 2d division, inade 71; Charence C. Dooittle, 3d, 91.75; Hawkins Taylor, 3d, 72; Herbert W. York, county, 66 5; Donaldson, 2d, 68; Conrad Welss, 3d, 73.50; Joseph S. McCoy, jr., 2d, 73; A. Clum, 3d, 77.25; C.G. Pearce, 1st, 81; J. The examination was conducted by Superintendent Wilson, Trustee Lovejoy, chairman of the committee on teachers, and other members of the school board. The high school room was prettily decorated with flowers, and the "Sweet Girl Graduates" were attired almost without exception in graduation day white, though any extravagance in dress was very sensibly dispensed with. The examination covered physics, geometry, botany, general bistory, algebra, physical geography and English literature. The literary and formal closing exercises began at one o'clock this afternoon, and were largely attended. Trustees Lovejoy, Curtis, Lambert, Dodge and Pearson. and many trustees being present. The Case of Miss Lewis.

It is doubtful whether the committee on teachers will be ready to report at the meeting of the school board to-night its findings in the case of Miss C. A. Lewis, the colored school teacher. Miss Lewis resigned at the request of the sub-board of the seventh division on ac count of a scandal connecting her name with a married man named Marshall, and afterwards tee will meet to-night before the board assembles and endeavor to settle upon a report. It is stated that there are wide differences of opinion among the members as to the propriety of overruling the action of the sub-board.

The Proposed New Station Houses in Washington.

CONTROLLER LAWRENCE DECIDES THAT THE DIS-

for police station-houses in Washington, Judge

Lawrence, first controller of the Treasury, today made a decision. The act of March 3d last authorizes the District Commissioners to sell certain property in the city of Washington and in Georgetown; "and the proceeds of the sale of the lots situate in Washington shall be applied to the creet on and furnishing of two new police tation-houses in Washington; and the proceeds of the sale of the lots situate in Georgetown, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be applied to the purshase of a lot and the erection and furnithing of a new engine house for engine company No. 5, of the District of Columbia lire department, at present located in said city of Georgetown." The authority to purchase a site for the new engine-house in

G.orgetown is clearly conveyed in the above language. Not so to purchase sites for the police station houses in Washington. The commissioners make the argument that the authority to purchase sites in Washington is implied. Judge Lawrence decides that the im-plied power to purchase lots cannot in this case be permitted. "This conclusion is strengthened by the fact that the statute requires all the proceeds of the lots sold to be applied to the erection and furnishing of two new station-houses" as to Washington; while as to Georgetown it is expressly provided that a part of the proceeds of sales shall be applied in the purchase of a lot, and a part in erecting and furnishing a new engine-house. * * * The Commissioners of the District of Columbia have no authority, under the act of March 3d, 1831, to purchase any site for the erection of a new station-house."

IN VIEW OF THIS DECISION

the Commissioners are at a loss what to do, but the probability is that they will have to abandon the project of building a police station house in the precinct where it is most needed-the 5th-until an explanatory act can be obtained from Congress. The opinion of the Attorney General upon this same subject was to the effect that the power given by Congress to erect a building carries with it the power to purchase a site for such building, but the "hair-splitting construction of the Controller, as the Commissioners term it, will prevent further action at present. It is the intention of the Commissioners, however, to erect a station in the second precinct, to take the place of the miserable rookery used for that purpose by Lt.

Johnson at 7th and Boundary streets. This will probably be located on square 446, where the new high school building is about being com-menced, on 7th and P streets northwest. These two new station houses will be models for comfort and convenience for the police, and at the same time of pleasing architectural design.

They are as follows: Interest on debt, $38,700; salaries $4,357; police, $8.925, public schools, $7,200 $4,357; police, $8.925, public schools, $7,200 cleaning streets, $3,000; poor, $4,000; fire department, $3.600; courts, $4,000; public property $1,000; printing and advertising, $500; law expenses, $500; city council expenses, $500; chain gang, $300; pumps, $300; elections, $250; fire plugs, $150; coroner's inquests, $100; ground relt, $100; board of health, $100; dog licenses, $50; contingencies, $200,—total, $77,832.50. The estimates of last year were for $79,625, and some deficiencies of appropriation had to be supplied by special appropriations during the year.

ALEXANDRIA BALMY AGAIN, -The odor from the fertilizer mills disappeared yesterday, and in the evening the board of health having heard the statement of Mr. Burgess that the material yesterday was in bad condition, and would bereafter, it not odorless, be much less penetrating than the first cargo, the board adjourned without action. There is a general impression that a city which has withstood the smells of Fishtown for a century might be considered stench proof. The new mill employs now some thirty hands. MARKET ALLEY LITIGATION.-The taking of depositions in the hay scales suit still goes on. The testimony will be completed about the close of the month. This suit—Fleming vs. the Corporation of Alexandria—goes to the very foundations of the manufacture. foundations of the municipal government and concerns public rights in the first days of the city, being in this respect like the District water front suit, the Potomac Company vs. the Coasting Company. ACQUIRING TITLE.-The new enterprise is still most promising. Mr. Agnew, the proprietor of the Bloomery, received a letter this morning requesting him to have his deeds ready as the full payment would be made and the deeds taken in a few days. The iron works will not, for some time yet, interfere with the will not, for some time yet, interfere with the coal yard adjoining. A CULTING SENTENCE.—The mayor this morning convicted John Bright, white, and "Flip" Brown, colored, of stealing a pistol from Isaac Swartz, of King street, and sentenced each to receive 39 lashes. An appeal has been taken.

FOR WASHINGTON.—A three master, with ice from the Kennebec, passed up this morning.

A LAEGE PAINTING—"The Martyrdom of St. Peter of Verona," by Mr. Shuman, of this city, has been placed at the Dominican monastery in Washington on free exhibition.

E. M. MULLIN, Proprietor.

OPENS JUNE 10.

This magnificent summer resort, situated among the mountains of the Valley of Virginia only twelve miles from Baltimore & Ohio B. R., at Mt. Jackson, within a few hours travel of the cities of Baltimore and Washington. It excels in all the features which make a watering place attractive. Its great altitude, 2,300 feet above the level of the sea, renders the climate peculiarly healthful and delightful. The Chalybeate, Arsenia, Sulphur Powder, Iron Sulphur, Healing and Bead Wallow Springs, for their Mediciual virtue and curative properties stand unrivaled on this Continent. For health, pleasure and good living, Orkney is the place.

Round trip tickets issued by the different railroad companies. Passengers leave Mt. Jackson soon after the arrival of the train, arriving at the Springs to early tea, after being transported in Park Wagonettes over one of the best mountain reads in the State, easier and quicker reached than any large wetering place in the two Virginias, and with perfect safety; no mountain to cross.

Board from $42 to $50 per month of 30 days, according to location. Special contracts made with families or large parties. Can accommodate 750 persons. Good bathing. Fishing and hunting in sesson.
